School of Medicine Students

Sarah Hemminger – Founder and current President of the IMP (Incentive Mentoring Program) which she began to help tutor and mentor students at Dunbar High School. Currently, approximately 50 people from Johns Hopkins University contribute to the mentoring efforts.

Shantanu Nundy – He has helped to improve relations between Johns Hopkins and the local community and encourages a sense of public service within his medical school class. He organized the East Baltimore Community Talent Show which was a huge success this year not only for Hopkins but also to the communities that Hopkins resides in.

School of Nursing Students

Lynn Desrosiers – leads the Programa Salud for SON

Marguerite Baty – organizes the HIV screening program for SON students

School of Public Health Students

Randy Aussenberg – Served as a Court-Appointed Special Advocate for a child in the child welfare system. She has done research and has written recommendations for the city’s juvenile court regarding the child’s status needs. Randy is a trained CASH Campaign Volunteer which provides income tax assistance.

Lainie Rutkow – Community service through the Anna Baetjer Society. This year’s President of ABS. Has organized the SWEET student seminar series and organized important events for students such as the AIDS Advocacy week, tri-school day of service, election party, Go Red for Women, Panel on Scientific Integrity and more.
